SCIENTIFIC CONCEPT

The scientific concept of the WFH Shared Decision-Making Tool was developed by the WFH SDM Working Group consisting of:

Expert Committee

Brendan Hayes, MPH, National Hemophilia Foundation
 Declan Noone, MSc, Person with hemophilia
 Glenn Pierce, MD, PhD, VP Medical, WFH
 Thomas Sannie, Person with hemophilia
 Mark W Skinner, JD, Person with hemophilia
 Courtney D. Thornburg, MD, MSc, Hematologist

WFH Staff

Donna Coffin, MSc
 Mayss Naccache, MBA, MSc
 Julia Chadwick, MScPH

Independent Consultant

DESIGN AND DEVELOPMENT

FUNDING

The work to develop this Shared Decision-Making tool was funded by pharmaceutical companies, all of whom manufacture treatments for hemophilia. The project was open for funding by all manufacturers. The funders were not involved in the concept or development of the tool. Funders had an opportunity to provide feedback on all components of the tool, but WFH had final editorial decision-making rights.

A publication on the methodology of the development of this tool is in production and will be available here in the future.

WFH thanks the following sponsors of the WFH Shared Decision-Making Tool: BioMarin Pharmaceutical Inc., CSL Behring, Novo Nordisk, Pfizer, and Spark Therapeutics.

SUPPORTING EVIDENCE

The data utilized in the SDM Tool are derived from scientific sources adhering to a hierarchical structure outlined below:

- The first source of information is the Prescribing Information obtained from regulatory bodies such as the EMA (European Medicines Agency) and FDA (Food and Drug Administration) pertaining to a specific product.
- In cases where a product is exclusively available in countries outside the FDA and EMA jurisdiction, data from other relevant regulatory bodies was considered.
- Published results from the pivotal Phase 3 clinical trials, documented in scientific journals, serve as secondary sources of information if needed.

No other studies were taken into account as supporting documentation for quantitative data within the SDM Tool.

PRIVACY POLICY

Welcome to the World Federation of Hemophilia (WFH) Shared Decision Making (WDM) Tool website.

We take your privacy seriously, and we want you to know that we do not collect or store information that is entered into the WFH SDM Tool by users. If you do enter information in the tool, leave the tool and return later, the information you previously entered will not be available to you.

The WFH website does collect information about you automatically as you navigate through or use the WFH website. Information collected automatically may include usage details, IP addresses, session replay and recording technology (recording your movements, clicks, etc., on our Sites), and information collected through cookies, Google Analytics, and other tracking technologies. As you navigate through and interact with the WFH website, we may use automatic data collection technologies (such as session replay and tracking technologies referred to above) to collect certain information about your equipment, browsing actions, and patterns, specifically:

- Usage Details. Details of your visits to our website, such as traffic data, location, logs, referring/exit pages, date, and time of your visit to our site, error information, clickstream data, and other communication data and the resources that you access and use on or in the Sites.
- Device Information. Information about your computer, mobile device, and Internet connection, specifically your IP address, operating system, browser type, and App version information.

The information we collect helps us to improve our website and to deliver a better service by enabling us to:

- estimate our audience size and usage patterns;
- improve our product and services offerings;
- store information about your preferences, allowing us to customize our site according to your individual interests; and
- recognize and/or authenticate you when you return to our Sites.

The technologies we use for this automatic data collection may include:

- Cookies (or browser cookies). We and our service providers may use cookies, web beacons, and other technologies to receive and store certain types of information whenever you interact with our Sites through your computer or mobile device. A cookie is a small file or piece of data sent from a website and stored on the hard drive of your computer or mobile device. On your computer, you may refuse to accept browser cookies by activating the appropriate setting on your browser, and you may have similar capabilities on your mobile device in the preferences for your operating system or browser. However, if you select this setting, you may be unable to access or use certain parts of our Sites. Unless you have adjusted your browser or operating system setting so that it will refuse cookies, our system will issue cookies when you direct your browser to our website or use our App.

- Google Analytics. We use Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. ("Google") to collect certain information relating to your use of our Sites. Google Analytics uses cookies, which are text files placed on your computer, to help our site analyze how users use the website. You can find out more about how Google uses data when you visit our website by visiting "How Google uses information from sites or apps that use our services" (located at <https://policies.google.com/technologies/partner-sites>). We may also use Google Analytics Advertising Features or other advertising networks to provide you with interest-based advertising based on your online activity. For more information regarding Google Analytics please visit Google's website and pages that describe Google Analytics, such as <https://marketingplatform.google.com/about/>.

Please refer to the WFH Privacy Policy for more information or contact us at sdm@wfh.org. The person responsible for our privacy policy is Donna Coffin.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF USE
